

Questions for Script

At the fashion show, your team will explain and promote your design by creating a design advertisement. Use these questions to form the script for your presentation.

- Describe your design. How does it work, and what are the unique features?
- What design features have you incorporated to allow the wearer to move easily?
- What materials and design features have you incorporated to keep the wearer warm, but let sweat escape?
- What materials and design features have you incorporated to protect the wearer's knees and other areas that need protection?
- How did you incorporate wearable electronics? What type of circuit(s) did you use?
- What do you like best about your design?
- What would you change about your design to make it even better?
